Mead Committee to Delve Into "Wyman Matter" and Pearl

Takes Cue From Report on Military Debacle at Pearl Harbor

Summary

A quick summary of the Pearl Harbor report by The Associated Press

Majority of senate-house investigating committee—six Democrats, two Republicans—

Commend President Roosevelt; say he made "every possible effort" to avert war.

Find no evidence that Roosevelt "provoked" Japan into attacking U. S.

Place primary blame for Pearl Harbor unreadiness on military commanders in Washington and Hawaii.

Minority of two Republicans—

Hold Roosevelt chiefly responsible Say President Truman imbeded inquiry.

Majority recommendations—

Tighter controls against spies.

Unified commands at military-naval outposts.

Integration of army and navy intelligence.

Washington, July 22—(AP)—A new but pin-pointed Pearl Harbor investigation hove into view today.

The senate war investigating committee—taking its cue from the voluminous report assessing responsibility for the Dec. 7, 1941 military debacle—decided to reopen its own inquiry into prewar delays in fortifying the Pacific bastion.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) said a similar effort two years ago was blocked by refusal of the house military committee headed by Rep. May (D-Ky) to release a key witness to the senate group.

Brewster is a member of both the senate-house committee which delved into the blame behind Pearl Harbor and of the senate's special war investigating committee, now engrossed in an attempt to summon May for testimony concerning his relations with a midwestern munitions combine.

Central figure in the projected new inquiry is Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., Army district engineer in the Hawaiian department when the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor. Five months later Wyman was assigned to the Canol oil project in Canada. That was an undertaking which the senate commitee, then headed by President Truman as a senator, declared in a Dec. 23, 1943, report never should have been started.

Inquiry Called For

Referring specifically to "The Wyman Matter," the Pearl Harbor committee in its final report Saturday called for a separate inquiry into delays in constructing Hawaiian defenses.

Brewster told a reporter this sequence of events was related to him:

When the senate committee's process server approached a prospective key witness the latter asked time to telephone. This was granted and the witness disappeared A short time later senate committee counsel received a call from May committee aides stating that the witness in question was under subpoena by the house group and could not be released to testify before the senators.

The house committee found in a report filed June 14, 1944, that "mismanagement" on Wyman's part contributed to delays in prewar defense construction at Honolulu.

Both the house group and subsequently the Pearl Harbor com-

Widow of Sun Yat-Sen Warns America

Shanghai, July 22—(AP) — Madame Sun Yat-Sen, widow of the founder of the Chinese republic and sister-in-law of its present leader, Chiang Kai-Shek, said today in a rare interview that a desire to promote war between the Unied tSates and Russia motivates Kuomintang (government party) reactionaries seeking to stir up civil war.

Inactive in politics for years, she came out of semi-retirement to urge immediate establishment of a coalition government in the country now headed by her brother-in-law and to appeal to the United States to foster such a move by cutting off all military supplies to China.

Madame Sun said that Kyomintang reactionaries were fostering a civil war they can't win "because they hope civil conflict in China will incite war between America and the USSR and thus

Arrested

SanDiego, Calif., July 22.—(AP)—George White, 52,, Hollywood and New York theatrical producers of "Scandals" girl shows, was free on bail here today after his arrest on charges of suspicion of causing the traffic deaths of a newlywed pair and failing to stop and give aid.

He was accused by State Traffic Patrol Officer Luther M. Hake, in the county jail booking of negligent homicide and felonious failure to stop his borrowed automobile.

White denied the charges last night at his hotel, telling news men that "the first I knew of the accident was when a motorcycle cop stopped me just outside of San Diego" Saturday night.

He was arrested ten miles from where Claude McLester, 42, was killed and his bride, Leona Ann Osborne Lee, 18 was injured fatally on a highway Saturday night. The girl had married Lee only a few hours before at Tijuana, Mex.

The producer was released on $2,000 bail yesterday after spending the night in jail.

Illinois Assembly Meets Tomorrow to Discuss Rent Laws

Chicago, July 22—(AP)—The Illinois legislature will meet at 2 p. m. (CST) tomorrow in a special rent control session despite heightened prospects of OPA revival.

Governor Green summoned the Illinois lawmakers Saturday, a few hours before a U. S. house-senate conference committee agreed on a compromise OPA bill, and he later said the call couldn't be revoked.

It will be up to the legislators, he said, to decide whether state action is necessary to halt evictions and freeze Illinois rents.

The congressional conference committee bill will be submitted to the two chambers tomorrow also, and President Truman has indicated he would sign it into law if it reaches him.

Governor Green has not publicly stated what specific legislation he will ask of the Illinois general assembly. It was reported that his advisors have been instructed to draft bills preventing evictions and freezing rents at levels of June 30—the date OPA expired, and which would become automatically inoperative if federal rent control is revived.

Asks Strong Laws

To become efective immediately—the Republican governor has called for legislation against "wholesale evictions and unbridled rent increases" by Aug. 1—such proposals would have to have considerable democratic support.

Republicans have the necessary two-thirds majority for emergency legislation in the senate, but in the house the GOP margin is only 76 to 71.

Meanwhile, Sen. Richard Daley (D-Chicago) announced he was preparing bills of his own for the special session. The minority leader said his proposals would barbly meeting which begins at the

Bolivian Uprising Brings New Regime as President Dies

Revolutionists String Villarroel Up, Drape Body Over Tank

La Paz, Bolivia, July 22—(AP)—Student and labor revolutionists took over the government of Bolivia today after assassinating President Gualberto Villarroel, who was thrown bodily from the presidential palace, hanged to a lamppost and then paraded lifeless and naked through the streets on an army tank.

After the macabre parade in this highest capital in the world, the slain president's body again was hanged from a lamppost before the palace. The four days of bloody street fighting in which 2,000 persons were reported killed or wounded ended Sunday with victory for the rebels. Many of the president's close collaborators died with him.

Nestor Guillen, dean of the Superior court, assumed office as acting president, but vowed to relinquish the office when Tomas Monje, court president, was well enough to take his place. He called the regime "a provisional government to call elections and then turn over power to a government chosen by the people."

The revolutionary leaders promised that suppressed civil liberties would be restored immediately.

Report Prisoners Burned

The rebels reported that partially burned bodies of political prisoners of the Villarroel regime had been found in ammunition boxes at police headquarters. This, they said, was evidence of the severity of previous measures to repress the revolution.

Survivors of the final assault on the president's fortified palace said Villarroel was found wounded in the chest. They said he first pretended he was a leftist leader whom he resembled slightly. They quoted him as telling the storming rebels:

"I am Alfredo Mendizabel (leader of the revolutionary leftist party) Don't kill me."

These informants said Villarroel then tried to lift a revolver, but was shot before he could fire. The president then was thrown from the balcony to the crowds below.

Many members of Villarroel's military regime perished with their leader, but most of the cas-

Polish Gauleiter Hanged in Public

Poznan, Poland, July 22—(PS)—Arthur Greiser who sent thousands of Poles to nazi death camps in the day of his ascendancy as gauleiter of Poznan province, went to the gallows in prayerful terror yesterday while 15,000 persons, many of whom he had persecuted, watched, silently in Citadel Place.

Although his neck was broken, Greiser's body continued to writhe for seven minutes before physicians pronounced him dead.

The 49-year-old Greiser, who, as president of the pre-war Gdansk (Danzig) senate, collaborated in the nazi invasion of Poland, was the first person to be executed in Poland on the basic charge of waging aggressive war against the country.

Greiser, a native of Sroda, Poland, maintained throughout his trial that he was innocent and that he had been forced to obey orders given by Hitler and Himmler. He asked for a chance to live "to tell the whole truth" and promised to serve Generalissimo Stalin the rest of his life if he were spared.

An appeal for clemency, which the official Polish press agency asserted had been supported by the Vatican was refused by President Boleslaw Bierut.

Expand Dixon City Limits

There are thousands of residents of this vicinity whose homes are just outside the city limits but who are really citizens of Dixon and whose residence status should be legalized by the extension of the city limits so that such resident property would receive the benefits provided by the city government.

The Evening Telegraph believes that the majority of home owners outside of the rim of the city limits would prefer to be included in the corporation and receive its benefits and that also, the voters inside the city would welcome the inclusion of their near neighbors.

The present seems like a propitious time for the change. Numerous residence properties outside the present city lines are badly in need of sewer facilities. Insurance rates in those areas have been boosted recently due to lack of city fire protection and by coming into the city those insurance rates could be reduced.

If the outside areas join the city proper the park district limits should also be extended to include them so that they could receive their share of park and playground facilities.

Fire and police protection and the modern convenience and safety of sewage, street lights, etc., should be available to everyone. The law requires that all sewage pass through the city sewage disposal plant and cannot be dumped directly into the river.

The present north limits of the city run from a point north of the intersection of Institute Blvd. and Johnson avenue, in the northeast corner of the city, westward to a point on Brinton Avenue about three blocks north of the Illinois Central tracks and the line then take a dive southward across lots to join Galena Avenue at the I. C. tracks and then follows the I. C. tracks in a curve westerly and southerly to the Rock river and westerly down the center of the river to Hancock and Jason Avenues on the south side where it becomes the west city limits of south Dixon. This line around the curve of the railroad tracks in north Dixon leaves all of Swissville and a large residential area of North Dixon east and north of Swissville out of the city. This territory and possibly some other areas around the rim of the city should be taken into the city limits if their residents so desire.

Dixon has a population of probably more than 15,000 if all the residents could be legally included in the city and such a population would put the city in a new and better bracket among the cities of the state and nation and be greatly beneficial from many points of view. The benefits to the people who now live outside the corporate limits but who would then become legal residents of the city are obvious and we believe they should be given an opportunity to join the city.

An election inside the city and also in the area asking to join is required and there must be a majority in favor in both elections. The first step would be the presentation of a petition from the outside area to the city commission, asking admission to the corporate limits. If the council approved, the matter would go before the county court and an election date would be set.

The move would be extremely advantageous to all concerned and it is to be hoped that there is sufficient interest in the project among residents of the outside area, where the first move must be made, to start the legal proceedings necessary and push through to a successful conclusion.

Soviets to Stand Firm on U. N. Vote System in Meeting

New York, July 22—(AP)—Battle lines in the United Nations over the veto took more definite shape today with a reliable report in Soviet circles that Russia is standing firm on the veto system as it is presently constituted.

Soviet circles reported that it is the firm, definite and final conviction of the Russian government that the veto should remain unchanged. It was said further that no matter how many speeches are made on the question in the general assembly or however the veto is attacked. The Soviet government would remain firm for the present set-up.

This was the first Russian reaction on the veto question after the broadcast last Monday by Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian foreign minister and United Nations delegate, in which he criticized the

25 Pct. of Animals in Bomb Test Dead

Bikini Lagoon, July 22—(AP)—Nearly 25 per cent of the animals placed aboard ships in the first atomic bomb test at Bikini were killed outright or died later from exposure to lethal rays, a member of Vice Adm. H. P. Blandy's staff revealed today.

In addition, about one-third of the animals still living are critically ill.

Capt. R. H. Draeger of Blandy's staff told newsmen it would be months before the full story of what happened to the animals could be told. He said the animals exposed July 1 suffered "no real pain."

Studies have disclosed, he continued, that if the ships had been manned by crews, most of the seamen would have survived and would have been handling ships not put out of action.

Draeger reported that of 3,353 animals aboard the target fleet, 2,732 were taken off alive. Another 275 died later, not including those killed for purposes of scientific study.

All deaths were attributed directly to the atomic bomb.

Red Radio Accuses U. S. of Helping China War

London, July 22—(AP)—The Moscow radio accused America today of fostering civil war in China in order to assure economic and political dominance in the far east, and asserted:

"The Soviet public cannot be indifferent to America's policy in China."

Quoting from a lengthy review on American policy in China by the magazine New Times, the broadcast declared:

"The United States looks upon its economic predominance in China as a legitimate prize of war and upon China as its new economic boundary."

Two Kewanee Veterans Killed Over Week-End

Kewanee, Ill., July 22—(AP)—Two Kewanee area veterans who served in the Navy during the war died in accidents over the weekend.

Victor Lizdas, 35, former swimming instructor at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center, was drowned when he dived into the Hennepin canal at nearby Annawan and failed to return to the surface.

Joseph Mikenas, 20, was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Geneseo.

War Profits Probe Committee to Seek New Appropriation

Unexpected Expenses Incurred by Investigating Group

Washington, July 22—(AP) — The senate war investigating committee announced today that Joseph Freeman, Washington agent for a midwestern munitions combine, will be recalled tomorrow for questioning about reports that he attempted to influence a witness in the war profits inquiry.

Committee Counsel George Meader said the group also would hear several other witnesses tomorrow, including Rep. May (D-Ky), chairman of the house military committee, if May decides to answer a summons for his appearance.

The committee thus far has fcund it expensive to conduct its investigation and is ready to ask for funds to supplement the $85,000 previously received.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) told reporters no amount has been decided upon yet but that the need for more money arises from these factors:

Unexpected Expenses

1. Unexpected expenses incurred during the committe's current inquiry into a midwestern munitions combine—an inquiry that has brought repeated references to Chairman Andrew J. May of the house military committee.

2. A projected investigation into the activities of Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., along lines recommended by the Pearl Harbor committee. Wyman, as the Army's district engineer at Hawaii, was in charge of construction work there prior to the Japanese attack.

3. Federal pay boosts, which have upset the committee's budget for salaries of its investigators

Chinese Reds Warn U. S. Leathernecks

Tientsin, July 22—(AP) — The Chinese communist radio at Yenan today warned United States Marines that a search of Communist-held territory for seven Marines seized in North China July 13 was a violation of Chinese sovereignty.

The warning was made at a time when there were indications, not confirmed by the Marine Corps, that the seven have been found in a village 50 miles southwest of the port city of Chinwangtao.

Yenan radio said that unless the Leathernecks called off the hunt they must assume full responsibility for any clashes between Marines and Communists.

The Marines, however, said they had ceased the widespread search for the seven, captured by a band of 80 armed Chinese in a small village 22 miles southwest of Chinwangtao while going to buy ice. Although the corps would not confirm reports the seven have been found at the village of Lotinghsien Marine sources did say that a special team was preparing to leave for that village.

Russians Assure Yanks No Foul Play in Zone

Berlin, July 22—(AP)—Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, U. S. European theater commander, said yesterday he had accepted Russian assurances that U. S. officers, missing since July 4, are not being detained in the Soviet occupation zone.

McNarney also declared he did not believe the pair—Capt. Harold Cobin of New York City and Lt. George Wyatt of Oklahoma City had met with foul play. The two officers vanished after reportedly leaving on an unauthorized trip into the Russian occupation zone.

Report Scores Dead in Bomb Explosion in Jerusalem Hotel

Jerusalem, July 22—(AP)—Terrorists bombed and shattered part of the huge King David Hotel, headquarters of the British army and the secretariat of the Palestine government, today killing at least 50 persons in a terrifying blast that shook the modern part of this ancient city.

The attack came 23 days after the British army occupied the Jewish agency and arrested 2,000 Jews and leaders. A police communique gave the estimate of dead. Among the 60 reported unofficially as injured was an American, correspondent Richard Mowrer of the New York Post, who was reported to have suffered a broken leg while walking past the hotel.

A curfew was clamped on. Pedestrians and traffic vanished from streets in Jewish quarters of Jerusalem. Tight cordons barred access to the King David hotel, one of the finest in eastern Mediterranean countries, while soldiers dug into the rubble for more bodies and for wounded.

Veteran Official Killed

Postmaster General G. D Kennedy, a veteran of 25 years of government service in Palestine, was known to have been killed.

The explosion was likened by a British army officer to the detonation of a 500 pound bomb. It shattered the uneasy calm of Jerusalem, torn by Jewish demands for more immigration and Arab opposition, at 12:30 p. m.

The curfew was imposed soon

Grand Detour Family Injured in Crack-Up

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne L. Schmucker of Grand Detour and their seven year old daughter, Phyllis, were injured in an accident at the cement plant curve east of Dixon Sunday afternoon about 1:45 and were removed to the KSB hospital. They were enroute to Dixon, riding in a truck tractor, which, state police stated, entered the curve at too high a rate of speed to negotiate the curve.

The vehicle was reported to have skidded as it rounded the curve, the tractor crossing to the south side of the route 2 paving where it crashed into a ditch and then rolled over twice. The cab of the tractor was sompletely demolished, and the vehicle was hauled to Dixon. Mrs. Schmucker who suffered numerous severe cuts about the body, was the worst injured of the occupants. State Officers Russell Gentry and Roland Ullrich investigated the accident.

Preparations for Underwater A-Bomb Test Are Completed Today

Aboard USS Mt. McKinley, July 22—(AP)- Preparations for the underwater test of the atomic bomb will be completed tomorrow (Monday, U. S. Time) when target submarines are submerged in Bikini lagoon and an electronics rehearsal is staged.

As preparations went ahead, Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, atom test commander, observed that the bursting of the world's fifth atomic bomb might be delayed at least a week because of adverse weather.

Blandy added, however, that meteorologists hoped a high pressure area would shove an inter-tropical front southward and bring clear weather to the area.

The test now is scheduled for Thursday morning, Bikini time (Wednesday afternoon, U. S. time.)

Six submarines will be submerged tomorrow at a depth of 60 feet.

Two other submarines — the bomb-battered Skate and Parche — will be anchored on the surface.

Sub commanders agreed that the submerged craft, will stand little chance of surviving the terrific underwater blast.

Concrete blocks, anchored by bridles fore and aft, will hold the submarines at the desired depth.

The electronics rehearsal is routine.

Blandy warned again today that damage to ships in the forthcoming test will be "unspectacular" and not so impressive to the lay observer as were the battered and burning ships in the lagoon after the aerial explosion July 1.

The air burst damaged ships' superstructures while damage done in the second test will be underwater.

OPA Drafts Report to President Over Economy of Prices

Economic Consequences of Price Control to be Listed by OPA

BULLETIN

Washington, July 22—(AP)—A house-senate conference committee decided today that, in the revival of OPA, price ceilings cannot be restored before Aug. 20 on meat, poultry, eggs, milk and a list of other basic goods.

Washington, July 22.—(AP)—Senator Barkley (D-Ky) said today as he left the White House he did not know whether President Truman would sign compromise legislation to revive OPA but added "I hope he will."

The senate Democratic leader, accompanied by Democratic chiefs of both houses, said Truman was not asked whether he would put his signature to the proposal which would greatly alter price control procedure.

"And he did not tell us whether he would," Barkley told reporters.

The president, he said, is having the legislation analyzed. OPA Administrator Paul Porter will see Truman at 3:30 p. m. (E. S. T.)

The report presumably is intended as a sign-or-veto guide to the chief executive. However, one official in a position to know said Truman already has indicated a decision to approve the measure, "reluctantly."

Four-Weeks Holiday

One of the biggest headaches for the administration is the likelihood of at least another four-week holiday from price ceilings on meats, dairy products, grains, cottonseed and soybeans and their food and feed products.

Final determination whether these items shall be brought back under control August 20 is left to a three-man board with power to overrule OPA on both de-control and re-control decisions.

Paul Porter, OPA administrator, told newsmen "we are now working on an analysis of the bill's economic consequences." Porter would not say whether he would recommend another veto.

Bil Not Effective

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the house banking committee, leader in the administration's battle for a strong OPA, commented: "I don't think it is a very effective bill, but it is the best we can do."

The house-senate conference committee which finally agreed on the compromise Saturday night after a five-day deadlock set another meeting for today to resolve differences of opinion on just what had been done.

One moot point is whether the control board, to be appointed by the president subject to senate confirmation, has authority to restore before August 20 any ceilings on meats, dairy products and

Rail Statistician Backs Rate Boost

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Commodities moving by rail "could take an increase of 25 percent in freight rates without being called upon to pay any greater proportion of their value in freight charges than in 1941," J. H. Parmalee, Association of American Railroads statistician told an interstate commerce commission hearing today.

He contended that increases in wages, pay roll taxes and prices of materials since 1939 had added more than $2,000,000,000 a year to the operating costs of the railroads while freight and passenger increases in the same period have added less than $450,000,000 a year to their revenues.

Testifying on the petition of class 1 railroads for a 25 percent freight rate boost, Parmalee presented figures which he said showed that certain general commodity group values at destination rose 27.15 percent from 1941 to May 1946 in relation to the 1941 freight charges.

Parmalee contended that the figures he presented indicated "that as a whole commodities moving by rail could take an increase of 25 percent in freight rates without being called upon to pay any greater proportion of their value in freight charges in 941."

He added, "In other words the foundation of the railroad case rests upon three recent and basic developments: Declining traffic, increased wage rates on top of those imposed in 1941 and 1945 and still rising prices."

Hopes for Final Congressional Adjournment This Weekend Fade

Washington, July 22—(AP)—Senate Democratic Leader Barkley said after a conference with President Truman today he sees no prospect of adjourning congress before the middle of next week.

The Kentuckian told reporters Truman is having the compromise OPA revival bill analyzed with a view to deciding whether to accept it or veto it.

Barkley said he hopes Truman will sign the measure, but added: "We didn't ask him whether he would sign it and he did not tell us whether he would."

In addition to OPA legislation, Barkley said congress still must act on terminal leave pay bill, a railroad retirement bill, and an aviation treaty.

In addition, he continued, the long range housing legislation passed by the senate is still pending in the house.

Replying to a question, Barkley said the president did not mention farm security legislation also pending on Capitol Hill.

Another key measure on which the senate and house must seek agreement is that for controlling atomic energy.

Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts tentatively scheduled house action on the battered OPA bill for Tuesday.

By mid-week members of the two branches hope to get together on major differences over atomic energy legislation. The house passed the senate's McMahon bill for atomic controls after a bitter fight Saturday, but threw into it more than fifty amendments, several highly controversial.

Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 22—(AP) — Congress has almost — but not quite—up its mind on how it wants atomic energy controlled and developed in this country.

Here is an ABC explanation:

When the two atomic bombs hit Japan, we knew we had a terrifying weapon and that atomic energy held unknown peacetime wonders if rightly developed.

So it became clear we needed a national policy for controlling and developing the atom. President Truman told congress this on Oct. 3, 1945.

At the same time he asked for a law that would let him create a five-man commission, appointed by him with senate approval, to control the whole atomic energy problem.

That five-man commission, it was plain, would be the key to the problem. Would the members be civilians or military men?

Many people, including scientists who worked on the bomb, spoke out against allowing military men to have a controlling voice.

They feared military men, with their habitual secretiveness and often over-secretiveness, would be a stumbling block to any real development of atomic energy for civilian uses.

They feared letting military men have control in peacetime over anything as terrible as an atomic weapon.

The house military committee—headed by Rep. Andrew J. May, Kentucky Democrat—held some hearings and produced a bill which was howled down for giving the military too much power.

It never reached the floor of the house for a vote.

Meanwhile, the senate appointed a special atomic committee—headed by Senator Brien McMahon, Connecticut Democrat—to work on a bill.

This committee worked nearly eight months, held lengthy hearings, and came up with a bill which was widely applauded. Truman blessed it. The full senate approved it without change.

This bill would make the five-man commission all civilian. If the military didn't like what the commission did, it could complain to the president. He'd have the final word.

This bill went to the house. The house military committee got it and made some changes. Principally, it said at least one, at most two, military men should be on the five-man commission.

The full house approved this and other changes Saturday.

Now a joint committee of house and senate—since the two bodies had produced different bills—will get together to try to agree on a single bill which both houses will okay.

Because congress wants to adjourn by Saturday this will have to be done this week. If the committee fails there'll be no commission and no law this year, and the Army will continue to control atomic energy as it has from the beginning.

Don't confuse what congress is doing with the proposal made by Bernard Baruch, U. S. representative to the United Nations for world control of atomic energy.

That's an internal problem which will take a long time to work out.

Career Over

San Francisco—(AP)— The U. S. mint has on its hands two tons of zinc pennies which came into use during the war and if no one has use for them they'll be dumped into San Francisco Bay.

Superintendent Neil Callaghan says local junk dealers are not interested in melting them down so a grave in the bay is about the only thing left. The mint is trying to get the pennies out of circulation.

Williams is Fair-Haired Boy on Red Sox Pennant Team

Leads League in Home Runs, Hitting, Total Hits and Runs

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Thumping Teddy Williams is baseball's man of the hour—almost certain to be named most valuable player in the American League if the Boston Red Sox cop the big prize.

Adding 11 points to his batting average with one afternoon's effort on seven hits in nine times at bat, the sharp-eyed slugger is tops in batting at .365 and ranks first in runs scored, runs batted in, total hits and home runs. It's a good thing he never took up base stealing.

Williams hit for the cycle in yesterday's second game triumph over St. Louis, 7-4, topping a single, double and triple with his 27th home run, a 400-foot drive well into the right field stands at Fenway Park.

A double and a brace of singles by Williams drove in one of the runs Dave Ferris needed to record his 15th victory of the season by a 5-0 score. Tex Shirley and Cliff Fannin were the Brownie losers.

Now 11½ games out front with 64 to play, the Sox appear a certain bet to earn the pennant if they manage a .500 pace. To match that leisurely pace that would result in 97 wins, the second place Yanks would have to cop 44 of their remaining 65 contests—not an encouraging prospect.

Ferris appears sure to top his amazing freshman victory total of 21 games.

Yanks Far Behind

Just when the Yankees were beginning to make some menacing gestures with five straight victorious nine-inning pitching jobs, they collapsed under an eight-run inning engineered by the White Sox in the second game. Floyd Bevens had hurled and batted the home club to a 3-2 opening nod with his two-run homer off Ed Lopat but Chicago's anemic hitters climbed all over starter Al Gettel, Joe Page and Jake Wade for the biggest inning of the year and a 9-3 verdict.

Detroit blew a chance to pick up ground on New York by losing to the Philadelphia A's 4-3 in the first of two. Even Hank Greenberg's 23rd homer with a man on couldn't save the issue. The world champs got even in the nightcap, slugging Lum Harris and two successors for an 11-7 edge in a game cut to seven innings by darkness

Washington edged out Cleveland twice, 2-1 and 7-5, although the tribe rushed Bobby Feller to the rescue in the finale.

Cards-Bums Tied

St. Louis and Brooklyn continued to run neck and neck in the National, winding up respective home stands and road trips all even with 53-34 records. The Dodgers headed home to resume operations with Chicago and the Cardinals headed for the Polo Grounds to meet the Giants Tuesday. There are no games in either league today.

Howie Pollet threw a four-hitter at the Boston Braves in the 1st game but needed Stan Musial's two-run homer to defeat Johnny Niggeling, 3-2, Erv Dusak's circuit clout with two on eased Harry Brecheen's task in the 8-4 second tilt triumph over ex-Card Mort Cooper.

Vic Lombardi and Hank Behrman recorded wins over Pittsburgh as the Dodgers continued to show encouraging sign of snapping out of their slump. With Ebbets Field ahead, the Brooks can be counted to make a race of it, at least through August.

Lombardi blanked the Bucs with three hits, the best mound job of the day, 3-0, but Behrman required some bullpen help from Hal Gregg and an inside-the-park homer by Carl Furillo with a man on to sink the Pirates, 6-5.

Cubs Smash Record

Chicago set a new paid attendance record at Wrigley Field with a turnout of 45,615 but the Cubs could do not better than split with the Phillies. Oddly enough, the Phils, once the poorest attraction in the circuit held the previous high for the Cubs park.

Hank Borowy finally cast off his miseries and worked a complete game, the first since May 5, in the 3-0 opener. Ken Raffensberger handed Claude Passeau his fifth straight setback in the 4-2 second tilt, with the help of Del Ennis' home run.

After Ewell Blackwell had whitewashed New York with five hits, 5-0, in the curtain raiser, the Cincinnati Reds succumbed to the slants of Long Johnny Gee, making his first start after a year's retirement. Gee picked up a 2-1 triumph on homers by Willard Marshall and Benny Warren. The split boosted the Reds into fourth place, a game ahead of the Braves.

Dixon Legions Tops Polo Outfit, 12-5

The Dixon American Legion juniors added to their string of victories yesterday at Polo as they overran the Polo outfit, 12-5. Moeller gave up seven hits for the locals, while striking out 10. Ames, the losing pitcher, also struck out 10, but gave up eight hits for 12 runs.

Polo led 3-0 at the end of the third inning, but in the fourth, the Dixon club began shelling which netted them two in the fourth, three in the fifth, five in the seventh and two insurance runs in the eighth.

Wendell Snell, handy first sacker and utility outfielder for the Dixon legion, was beaned with a pitched ball in the third inning and was rushed to the Polo hospital. He sustained no serious injuries, and was resting comfortably at his home this morning.

Two California Auto Racers Win Top Money

Langhorne, Pa., July 22—(AP)—Two auto car racers from California, taking advantage of the breaks, won first prize money and glory in the 20-mile feature at Langhorne speedway yesterday.

George Robson, the Maywood, Calif., driver who won the Indianapolis Memorial Day 500-miler, wheeled in at the head of the field to win the main event.

But to Rex Mays, who calls Long Beach, Calif., home, went the glory. He shattered the one-mile world dirt track record, blazing the distance in 34.66 seconds (approximately 103 miles per hour).

The old mark was 34.81 seconds made by the late Tony Wilburn in 1942.

Robson also scored an eight-mile track record of 4 minutes, 59.92 seconds in a preliminary to the feature race.

Roberts & Hess in 10th Victory; Whip West Brooklyn, 2-0

McGraham Whiffs 14 as Locals Stretch Lead in West Division

Let the top outfits in the western division fight it out with all they have, but Roberts & Hess is continuing on its merry way in the eastern division, virtually assured of the flag.

They set down West Brooklyn yesterday, 2-0, with lefty George McGraham shutting door on the Brooklyn legion bats, allowing six safeties and striking out 14. Lefty Knauer, the old-timer with a pitching reputation as long as your arm, gave the locals only six hits, but was tapped for the two extra counters, which spelled defeat for the hosts yesterday.

Little Jimmy Burke, just out of the tan uniform, started the contest at the hot corner yesterday afternoon, and although a little rusty after his rather long hitch in the service, he played solid ball all the way. Lee Whitman, another newcomer to the R & H club, started the day at first base, with captain Dale Frey moving out to right field.

The big damage to the Brooklyn legion came in the fourth frame when Walker hit safely and came in on a clout by Williams, and again in the seventh Krug scored on a fielder's choice and an error.

Nations College Coaches Meet for 'True Amateurism'

Chicago, July 22.—(AP)—Some 30 of the nation's outstanding coaches and athletic officials from 16 conferences put their heads together in frank discussion today in an attempt to keep "the true spirit of amateurism" from being undermined by an "alarming trend" toward semi-professionalism in intercollegiate sports.

The representatives gathered in the offices of the western conference at the invitation of the Big Ten commissioner, Kenneth L. Wilson.

He believes uniform plan should be adopted to rid college sports of "evil influences." The response he received showed that other conferences thought the time was ripe to put their cards on the table during the two-day convention.

Said Artie Eilers of St. Louis, commissioner of the Missouri Valley conference: "It's cause for alarm when you read charges that one college has stolen another's football players. Things were bad after the first war—but they'll get 100 times worse if we don't do something now."

Need Uniform Rules

Both Eilers and Reaves Peters of Kansas City, Mo., big six conference commissioner of officials, agreed there was a great need for uniformity of rules and procedures in college athletics.

James Stewart, of Dallas, Tex., southwest conference commissioner, was interested in a uniform graduate rule.

"If a boy graduates in less than four years why shouldn't he be allowed to play his three seasons of varsity athletics, even though he is doing graduate work?" Stewart asked.

Paramount issues to be discussed are scholarships and rules governing transfer of athletes.

One official, who did not wish to be quoted by name, said laxity of transfer regulations is "one of the greatest evils in college athletics."

"Some conference actually will have seven year men next fall," he added.

Assault Will Face Arlington "Jinx" in Race Saturday

Chicago, July 22—(AP)—Arlington Park—"The graveyard of champions"—winds up its most successful season of racing this week with four stake events totalling $135,000 and topped Saturday by the significant $60,000 Arlington classic featuring Assault't bid to overcome the fabled jinx.

Robert J. Kleberg's sensational three-year-old is expected to battle it out with Maine Chance farm's Lord Boswell, which all spring failed to live up to expectations but made a brilliant comeback in the Dick Welles stakes a week ago, setting a mile and an eighth track record of 1:49.

Thus again the classic stakes may be marked by the overthrow of a champion as occurred when Johnstown, Bimelech and Whirlaway failed in consecutive years.

Saturday's Race "Great"

However, it is questionable if Assault and Lord Boswell can provide any more tingling moments than were registered in the $50,000 added Arlington Handicap last Saturday when the Arlington jinx overthrew another great champion, Calumet Farm's Armed. Herbert M. Woolf's Historian, rising from the obscurity of a $2,300 plater at Hawthorne park last fall to become one of the better handicappers in the country, beat out Armed by a neck as a throng of 32,000 yelled itself hoarse acclaiming the most thrilling stretch duel seen on Chicago tracks in years.

Historians won in record breaking time of 2:01 for the mile and a quarter route. Arlington's previous mark of 2:01 1-5 was set by Discovery carrying 135 pounds in 1935. Historian toted 112 pounds to Armed's 130.

Armed's Second Loss

It was the second defeat for Armed in two Arlington starts. With 132 pounds up, the 5-year-old son of Bull Lea ran third, beaten three quarters of a length, in the Equipoise mile. The victory was worth $38,700 to Historian, hiking his year's earnings to $77,050

Other stakes during Arlington's final week are the $20,000 primer for 2-year-old colts and geldings at six furlongs on Wednesday, the $30,000 Arlington Matron handicap for fillies and mares at a mile on Thursday, and the $25,000 Grassland handicap on the turf as the classic's supporting feature Saturday.

Zale's Managers File Protest for Graziano

Pompton Lakes, N. J., July 22—(AP) — Middleweight champion Tony Zale of Gary, Ind., began tapering off today for his title fight with Rocky Graziano of New York in Yankee Stadium Thursday as one of his managers began a protest against the ring tactics used by the challenger in the past.

Sam Pian, co-manager of the champion, said he would appear before the New York State Athletic Commission at the weigh-in Thursday in an effort to reach an understanding before the fight.

"If the New York Commission wants a brawl or a street fight, Zale can give them that," he said, "but we don't want one set of rules for Graziano and another set for Zale."

The champion brought his intensive workouts to an end yesterday with four rounds of sparring, giving him a total of 111 training rounds. He will complete his preparation with a light workout tomorrow.

SHIPMENT STOPS

Berlin, July 22 — (AP) — A spokesman for the American military government said today a temporary ban has been placed on the shipment of newspapers into the U. S. zone from other occupation zones of Germany.

He added that the order would remain effective until a four-power agreement on a legal way of interchanging newspapers and financing such exchanges is worked out.

Harmon "Uninterested" Says Dons' Manager; Rams Sign "Great Star"

Los Angeles, July 22—(AP)—How long can a player—even if he is Tom Harmon—stay away from regular football and still retain the stellar spark?

Indefinitely, is the answer of the National League champion Los Angeles Rams, who signed Harmon to a two-year contract Saturday.

The rival Los Angeles Dons of the All-America conference disagreed after several weeks of dickering.

The former Michigan two-time All-America halfback (1939 and 1940) accepted the Rams' offer of a salary of close to I$20,000 a year, reliable sources reported, after the Dons had refused to do business with him at higher figures.

Dons' general manager Slip Madigan said Harmon was "away from football too long and too much interested in radio work to be worth his asking price."

But Chile Walsh, Rams G. M., snapped Madigan up on that.

"Harmon is 26, the same age as Bob Waterfield, our league's most valuable last year. We consider it a great honor to accept him."

Harmon Delighted

Harmon expressed himself as delighted with the contract, which will permit him to handle a twice-a-week sports broadcast throughout the season without interfering with his playing schedule.

Before signing Harmon, the Rams traded halfback Dante Magnani and tackle Fred Davis to the Chicago Bears, on whose draft list Harmon has rested since 1941. He never played for the Bears, going into the Army Air Forces near the outbreak of war.

After four years' service, Harmon will be the Rams' left halfback, Coach Adam Walsh declares, and wear the No. 98 he wore while romping to a new intercollegiate record of 33 touchdowns in 1940. In three years on the Michigan varsity, Harmon rolled up a total of 3,592 yards rushing and passing.

Nelson Out After All-American for Seventh Victory

By JERRY LISKA

Chicago, July 22—(AP)—Byron Nelson, golf's golden boy—peeved at critics who claimed he cleaned up last year because the top stars were in service—today was poised to grab the 1946 cash-collecting leadship in the $50,000 All-American tournament at Tam O'Shanter.

Nelson primed for a crack at the $10,500 first prize offered in George S May's All-American by roaring from behind to cop the $10,000 Chicago Victory National open yesterday with a five-under-par 279.

The All-Americans merry-go-round which opens today with three days of qualifying competition for amateur, feminine and professional entries finds Nelson owning more than $19,500 winnings in six major triumphs, while leading money-winner Ben Hogan—who finished far behind in the Chicago Victory with a 286—has some $25,400 for eight victories.

Nelson Pounds Par

Nelson methodically ripped apart Medinah's puzzling No 3 course yesterday for a closing 36-hole round of 69-68-137, five under par, after starting lackadaisically Friday with a 73 and then perking to a 69 Saturday

Harold McSpaden, from Sanford, Me., finished with 281, taking runner-up honors to Nelson for the second straight year. The Jug, who faltered on the last 18 with a 71 after a morning round of 67 has not won a major tournament since the Salt Lake, Utah, open, exactly two years ago.

Sneaking home for third money was unheralded Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., with 282. Lloyd Mangrum, U.S. open champion and leader at 36 and 54 holes, finished behind Detroit's Chick Harbert (284) in a tie for fifth with E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock, Ark at 285.

A Thought for Today

If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land.—II Chronicles 7:14.

It is no humility for a man to think less of himself than he ought, though it might rather puzzle him to do that. —Spurgeon.

Farm Safety Week

Forty-three persons are going to be killed on their farms tomorrow. Why? Simply because they aren't careful.

"Don't they want to live?" you ask. "Why, yes, we suppose they do. And they don't have to die—not unless they want to.

You see it's like this: Each day on the farm 43 persons in the United States are killed by unnecessary accidents. Ralph Parks, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that more people are killed each year in the United States by farm accidents than were killed in World War II.

And the thing that is most important is this: THESE ACCIDENTS ARE PREVENTABLE. Yes, tomorrow and every day this year 43 people are going to be killed through their own carelessness. One of these persons might be YOU.

Death isn't a funny thing, and it is especially grim when it could have been avoided. Get out there right now, mister, and check that machinery of yours. Do you have guards on all those power shafts? In what condition are the ropes and pulleys on the haying equipment? If they are worn, you'd better do something about it. No, not this fall, NOW. Have the cattle been dehorned? Are the steps in good repair? Are hammer and axe handles in good condition? Better make sure.

You don't want to be injured or pososibly killed, do you? Then let's all get busy and make the American farm the safest place in the world to live.

FARM SAFETY WEEK, JULY 21-27.

More Atomic Evils

The atomic age, besides scaring the human race half out of its wits, has sown a crop of corny catchwords which in itself is a dreadfully wearisome, though minor, menace.

First it was the puns on atom and atomic, and the pictures of young women in bathing suits labeled "An-atomic Blonde." Then there were the business establishments with new nuclear names—the Atomic Sportswear, Atomic Exterminator, Atomic This-and-That companies.

And now Operation Crossroads has started a new fad. So some caption writers and head writers of our own noble profession, the preface Operation is apparently considered the final word in cleverness, for instance, we saw a picture of some girls starting off to help somebody pick his berry crop. The caption, of course, was "Operation Raspberry."

Now this thing has gone about far enough. We keep hoping that the fad will wear itself out. But perhaps the safe thing would be for Mr. Baruch to attach some sort of a prohibitive rider onto his plan for safe disposition of the atom. That much of an abridgment of press freedom we'll be happy to support.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, reproduction in whole or in part stirctly prohibited.)

Washington.—The final defense of Mihailovitch, the hero of the Chetniks, was little reported in this country. American popular interest in him waned when he was reported to have "admitted acts of collaboration" with the enemy during the war. Of such a character is our acute sense of justice. But in this case it has been successfully abused—and misled.

Mihailovitch spoke for four hours from notes he had made for 3 days, ending his speech at midnight, with this final accounting from an anti-nazi resistance soldier:

"I had against me a competitive organization, the communist party which seeks its aims without compromise. I was faced with changes in my own government and accused of connections with every possible secret service, enemy or allied. I believed I was on the right road and called on any foreign journalist or Red army mission to visit me and see everything (between the western democracies and Russia). I wanted much. I started much, but the gale of the world carried me away from my work."

This is a Serbian soldier of resistance, far from the early time when he and the British alone were resisting the nazis but Russia was not, speaking after clever communist torture in a mockery of trials which could find a counterpart only in the Moscow treason trials for Russian propaganda purposes. The methods of torture which broke his mind have been frequently described in books available at your libraries (Jan Valtin's "Out of the Night"). Thus was the Slavic temperment and mind led to confess anything his captors wished for their purposes of propaganda in strengthening the disliked Tito government in Yugoslavia and for effect upon people throughout the Balkans. (Our own house foreign affairs sub-committee says Tito was educated in Russia, was a soldier of the Red Army and rules Yugoslavia for the communists by machine guns. Although he has the voluntary support of only 15 to 19 percent of his cities and "from 5 percent down to zero percent" of villagers and farmers.)

Before the "trial" of the Chetnik commander in chief on our side up to December 1945, his communist party adversary Tito went to Moscow. With him he took his military leaders and the head of his secret police—the Ozana. A full military agreement was reached (Tito can contribute 800,000 in the army to any Russian cause) and a propaganda agreemen for Mihailovitch.

This is the same Tito government which later informed our state department the crimes of Mihailovitch, before the trial, had been judged to be "too great and terrible for any discussion"—or for American testimony. It's foreign minister had announced befor the trial (May 11): "Mihailovitch will be shot."

The Russians took no chances on it. The three members of the "court" were officers from the Tito army, and members of the communist party. The spectators hissed and booed statements, such as the truthful assertion of a defense attorney that the law under which the men were being tried was made up by the communist government after the supposed "crimes" were committed. The verdict of death for Mihailovitch was cheered.

To call this propaganda farce by the name of trial is an accusation against justice. Mihailovitch fought largely under the supervision of the British mission against nazis—but he did not fight for the Russians. This was his real crime. He fought for British and Americans as well as his Serds, but he did not fight for the Russians.

The whole situation in the communist-ridden Balkans has been asserted by a Christian Science Monitor correspondent who was expelled, Reuben Markham, being accused privately by the Russians with collaboration against them because of his reports. He said:

"The worst that any tryant ever did in the way of violence, terror, suppression or freedom is being matched by the communist-dominated governments of Bulgaria and Rumania. Russian-imposed dictatorial methods include concentration camps and legal massacre of opponents. The courts are a travesty of justice and people are killed by the thousands . . . An extremely unpopular regime is determined thus to compel an unwilling nation to vote for it." This is the condition of all the Balkans. Rumania and Bulgaria now being involved in peace treaties which the twenty-one nations are to ratify and thus pledge world approval, and perpetual help through UNO to enforce by arms.

Mihailovitch was not "tried" in Belgrade. The CP tried him when it captured him in March, and staged the Belgrade show to scare the people and strengthen the CP regime, as it did in Moscow before the war.

What was tried in Belgrade was Russia and communism. In evidence, were her methods and techniques, her foolish attempt to ape Anglo-Saxon justice with a staged "trial", her inferiority complex taking refuge in barbarianism, in which it framed the whole bench and broke the mind of a fifty-nine-year-old Serbian general to create an Anglo-Saxon excuse for a Russian propanganda death.

Fair Enough

New York—The contrast between the professions and the performances of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt has been drawn in a series of revelations, the most dramatic being his active participation in the bilking of John Hartford and David G. Baird who had loaned $250,000 to his son, Elliott, and the unsuccessful attempt to bilk Charles Harwood of $25,000 by representing that his collateral was worth only 2 cents on the dollar. It has been shown further that the president, who had damned holding companies, used three holding companies and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in an elaborate scheme to provide that an estate adjoining his own at Hyde Park should not fall into the hands of "undesirable" neighbors.

As to generosity by employers toward employees, President Roosevelt left an emphatic record in speeches and documents which invited an assumption among his follower that he, himself, was extraordinarily liberal. His will, bequeathing only $100 each to his personal employees out of a millionaire's estate, suggested inconsistency, the more striking in view of the great value of the philatelic treasures which he left, most of which were a profitable and questionable by-product of the presidential office.

Moreover, it is a fact that in his old home neighborhood of Hyde Park, Roosevelt was not unanimously or even generally regarded as a liberal employer.

Historians undoubtedly will weigh evidence of contradictions in the character of Roosevelt, however shrilly his followers today may object to the introduction into the contemporary record of material which otherwise might be lost.

In 1936, when Alf Landon of Kansas opposed Rosevelt as a Republican nominee, the Republican national committee prepared a broadcast in which Dr. J. M. Cronk of Hyde Park, a country doctor who had then been in general practice there for 38 years, was to have been the star witness.

Dr. Cronk had regarded Roosevelt as a selfish and snobbish boy and, in that broadcast, which was not delivered, but the original script of which still exists, he was prepared to say: "Mr. Roosevelt is not known here, among his neighbors, as a good neighbor. There is plenty of reason. We know the way he treats the people who have worked for him. Mr. Roosevelt does not have the reputation of a good employer.

"We in Hyde Park know that Mr. Roosevelt calls himself the friend of labor. I don't want to sound cynical, but we don't judge him by what he says when he is talking for votes but by what we know of him right here. We hear a lot about social security these days. Let me tell you about an old man, a very old man here in Hyde Park. His name is Myron Husted. Mr. Husted is in his 89th year. He worked on the Roosevelt estate for 23 years. For the last five years he has not worked at all.

"Seven years ago, when Mr. Husted was in his 82d year, and after 21 years of service for the Roosevelts, his pay was cut to one dollar a day and the old man had to walk more than two miles each way, to and from work, and then to put in a day's work to the best of his ability. For two years he faithfully plodded back and forth, rain or shine, to earn his daily dollar.

"One rainy night, five years ago, on his way home from work, Mr. Husted fell and sustained an injury. He never returned to work. He requested a small pension from the Roosevelt family to help sustain him in his last years. He did not get it although it is the custom of the big estate owners up the river to pension their old and faithful employees."

Among the documents attached to the radio script is an affidavit by Doctor Cronk on Oct. 9, 1936, and bearing the signature of a notary public in which he swore that Myron Husted had made these statements to him. Doctor Cronk examined this old affidavit a few days ago and acknowledged its contents and his signature.

"Here is another case," Doctor Cronk's script continued. "Ezra Plain, too, worked on the Roosevelt estate for many years. Here is what he says: 'I was employed on the Roosevelt estate for 14 years, the last ten of which were in continuous service as coachman. On June 1, 1936, I was discharged without cause after having been given two weeks' notice. From both Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. James Roosevelt I received writen recommendations upon discharge. The reason stated in their letters was that they were going to cut down the number of horses to one. Actally, they still have six horses and I was told verbally that I was being let go to cut down expenses because they were going to get soldiers to do the work. Two soldiers are now working on the place in uniform, caring for the horses. Since my discharge I have had no employment."

A photostat of a letter in Franklin D. Roosevelt's handwriting on White House stationery and signed by him says Ezra Plain was "reliable, honest and a good worker," and adds, "I am glad to recommend him."

A photostat of another letter, in another handwriting, signed "S. (Sarah) D. Roosevelt," (Mrs. James Roosevelt), says "I have found him honest and sober and he understands well the care of horses."

Doctor Cronk says he, personally, knew the two sergeants of the Army who were detailed to the Roosevelt estate to care for the horses after the dismissal of Ezra Plain and that the soldiers "were kind of boastful fellows because they worked for Roosevelt. I used to see them around." He was unable to give their names.

In closing, the script said Doctor Cronk had hesitated to take part in the radio interview but finally decided it was his duty to help other people to know Roosevelt as his neighbors knew him.

Other affidavits in the accompanying sheaf said Roosevelt paid $2.25 for a nine-hour day for laborers as against the local rate of 40 cents an hour or $3.20 for an 8-hour day.

Twenty four hours after he was interviewed at his office in Hyde Park, Doctor Cronk expressed apprehension that his grandson, recently discharged from the Army, employed as a guard at Roosevelt's grave, and a son-in-law, employed on a semi-public project in the neighborhood might become victims of political reprisals, even though Roosevelt is dead.

He said he warned a representative of the Republican national committee in 1936 that the new deal would make it impossible to buy radio time for the interview. And this, he said, was the reason why it never was broadcast.

A Republican worker assigned to that job at the time recollects, however, that the Republican National Committee got cold feet, tried to get the Jeffersonian Democrats to take the responsibility and finally killed it off themselves.

General Duty Nurse

By LUCY AGNES HANCOCK

Copyright by Lucy Agnes Hancock—Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

XLII

THE two girls entered Sally's room and Norma turned down the covers of her bed and lowered the shades, while Sally sat before her dressing table and thought what a simpleton she had been to make such a spectacle of herself.

"There," Norma said patting the pillow. "If you slip out of your uniform you'll rest better. It's terribly warm so I'll leave both windows up."

"You're being very kind, Norma," Sally murmured. "Why—why couldn't it have always been like this? Why have you hated me—"

And Norma slipped to the floor beside Sally's chair and buried her head in her lap. "I've never hated you," she sobbed. "I was just jealous. You had everything I—I wanted and—and—I—I had nothing."

"Everything, Norma?" Sally asked. "What do you mean?"

"You're beautiful—you're good and—and popular. Sunderlin favors you. Willoughby's crazy about you and so's the Chief. I—I'm a good nurse, Sally, and yet no one ever tells me so. I don't get the private cases—the specials like you do. No one cares if I'm hurt or not. I—I'm so—so miserable!"

And then Sally laughed gently and her arms tightened around the weeping girl.

"Don't be a goose, Norma Holden," she chided. "We all know you're a good nurse. I heard someone say that just the other day. You have let your imagination run away with you. If I'm popular—and I'm not sure that I am—it's because I like people—like helping them—being glad with them—sharing their interests and worries. Don't be jealous of me, darling," she urged.

"You—you're so sweet!" Norma said, wiping her streaming eyes.

AUNT CLEM had approved of Jim Hallock and she gave her beloved niece her blessing and if her gaze was questioning as from time to time it met Sally's she had nothing to say about the mythical Blair Canfield. Doctor Hallock spoke of her tact on their way back to Linton.

"I like your aunt, darling," he told her. "You know that old affair isn't exactly a pleasant subject to me and I appreciate her thoughtfulness." And Sally appreciated it too.

Richard Gregory was due in Lintonville soon after the Fourth and Sally wondered if his visit had anything to do with Blair Canfield's proposed advent. As the time approached she grew increasingly nervous. Suppose news of Blair Canfield's coming should appear in the Lintonville Chronicle. What could she say? There was always the truth, of course. She could tell those interested that he was not the Blair Canfield she had known. But she doubted if she could carry off the explanation calmly and convincingly. Blair Canfield was by no means a common name. How had it come so glibly to her tongue? She didn't know.

Richard Gregory came to the Annex to see her on the afternoon of his arrival in Lintonville. He looked at her anxiously as they shook hands in the corridor upon tion room of the nurses' home.

"You're thin, Sally," he said, "and pale. Have you been worrying over Canfield's coming here?"

"What do you think?" Sally asked.

HE smiled into her troubled eyes. "No sense in that," he said. "I've found out that he's been ordered back to the Pacific. Winning the war seems to be more important just now than acquiring medals, and I, for one, am glad. Now you look more like yourself, my dear," as Sally uttered a sigh of relief. "Color good, eyes bright and even a smile for me. Carolyn wrote me that you and that fine Doctor Jim Hallock had apparently come to your senses. Allow me to wish you every happiness, Sally. You deserve it."

"Oh, I don't, Dick," Sally whispered, her voice choked.

"Well, anyway, it's yours, my dear, and take my advice and guard it with your life. It's precious. 'Bye for now."

And Sally's heart sang as she went back to her duties in Women's Surgical, which, as usual, was filled to capacity.

"Has someone left you a fortune, Miss Maynard?" asked middle-aged Mrs. Carson, a Nurse's Aide, just now acting as floor nurse. "It must be a big one from the stars in your eyes."

"No fortune, Mrs. Carson," Sally caroled. "Just grand news—wonderful news and I'm terribly happy about it. Anything happen while I was gone?"

"Hardly," the other said dryly. "You have been gone just 20 minutes. What could happen in this ward in that length of time? No, everything has been quiet."

"Good!" Sally replied and turned as the elevator whirred to a stop. Doctor Hallock stepped out and came toward her. And while neither one stopped, the look in both faces as their glances met and clung brought a glow to the heart of the watcher. What it was to be young and beloved!

Eleanor Mulnix, Don Hurdle Wed in Lovely Ceremony

Miss Eleanor Elizabeth Mulnix, daughter of Mrs. Milbrey Mulnix, Polo, and John Mulnix, of Dixon, and Donald R. Hurdle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hurdle, well known young couple, repeated their marriage vows in an impressive ceremony Sunday afternoon, July 14 at the St. Mark's Lutheran church in Polo, where Rev. Martin G. Kabele, pastor, read the single ring service at four o'clock in the presence of two hundred invited guests.

Baskets of white gladiolas and snapdragons and lighted white tapers added to the beauty of the chancel. In the sanctuary, each pew had ben marked with white moire ribbons. The white bridal carpet, with other decorations, added to the effectiveness of the setting.

A half hour before the ceremony, Miss Marlys Jean Blough took her place at the console of the organ for a recital of nuptial music. As the hour for the service approached, Miss Wilma Atwood, sorority sister of the bride, of Pittsfield, sang "I Love Thee," and "Deep in My Heart."

As the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin sounded, the ushers, Charles Rae Rowland of Chicago, Don Smith of Bloomington, Darrell Hurdle, cousin of the groom, from Mount Morris, and Morris Johnson, of Dixon, led the way to the altar.

The four bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Park, Springfield; Miss Connie Sigler, Leroy; Miss Dorothy Garber of Polo, and Miss Cora Jean Cheatham of Madison, Wisconsin, followed. Their gowns were fashioned of powder blue marquisette with matching headdresses and they carried bouquets of contrasting color.

They were followed by Miss Carol Coffey, wearing a yellow gown made with cascade ruffles falling into a short train. A feather headdress matched her dress.

Eleanor wore a trained wedding gown of white marquisette with a satin bodice embroidered in seed pearls and a tulle veil falling from a seed pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

The groom, attended by Jack R. Terry, waited at the altar where the impressive ring service was read.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's mother at her home on South Franklin street for one hundred and fifty guests.

Mrs. Melvin Hurdle, Miss Annabel McGrath and Mrs. Ina Keltner of Bloomington served from a most attractive table in the dining room where the bride and groom first cut the wedding cake, following the nuptial tradition. Those who assisted with the serving were Miss Priscilla Coffey, Miss Patricia Clothier, Miss Edith Traverse, Mrs. Donald Personette, of Polo, and Miss Marjorie Williams of Chicago. Mrs. Charles Rowland assisted throughout the reception as hostess.

The bride wore pink sharkskin and black accessories when the bridal pair left for a few days honeymoon in Chicago. Later in the week they will leave for Frankfort, Michigan, to spend a few weeks in the Mulnix cottage at Crystal Lake.

The bride is a graduate of Polo Community high school in the class of 1942 and in June of this year received her degree of bachelor of arts from Illinois Wesleyan University. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority, having served as president during the last year of Omicron chapter.

The groom is a graduate of Polo Community high school in the class of 1942 and has recently been discharged from the United States navy after serving three years. He plans to resume his education at the University of Illinois this fall where he will be enrolled in the college of engineering.

Out of town guests attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Earl M .Treat of Sterling; Ray Doty, Byron; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Appel of Aurora; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schaper, Mount Morris; Miss Ida Springsteen of Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. Rae Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Report Scores Dead afterwards while flames were licking parts of the wreckage of the right wing of the hotel. The secretariat appeared to have suffered more heavily than army headquarters. The military offices were on the upper floors. The secretariat occupied nine rooms. Pedestrians were permitted to move in certain areas, but no traffic was allowed on the streets except vehicles of troops and police.

Hundreds of truckloads of troops moved through the city.

Diversionary Explosion

A military officer, who saw the attacks, said a small bomb first exploded a block from the hotel, breaking windows. This was evidently a diversion.

Seconds later, a burst from a tommygun ripped out windows of the secretariat. A few minutes later, a tremendous explosion blew the corner of the hotel—largest in Palestine—into rubble.

"I saw dead men lying on the streets," one eyewitness said. "There were several ATS (British Army Women's Auxiliary) girls, covered with blood from head to feet, blown clear across the street and hit the side of the YMCA building."

The YMCA building, approximately 100 yards from the hotel, was blotched with a bloodstain one foot wide, but apparently was undamaged.

'Phone Operator Warned

The telephone operator at the hotel said that 15 minutes before the explosion, she received an anonymous calll saying the hotel was to be blown up. She was advised to flee.

Instead she spread the alarm and many guests ran from the building. Others, accustomed to alarms, remained. As word of the mysterious call spread, air raid sirens atop the hotel sounded and others throughout the city took up the eerie howl.

Five assassins were said by eyewitnesses to have planted the explosive after shooting at a British officer, storming the hotel grounds and herding its employes against the walls.

Fire erupted after the tremendous blast, which shook the center of modern Jerusalem at 12:30 p. m.

OPA Drafts Report

grains. Some committee members said yes; others no.

The compromise measure will go to the house and senate floors tomorrow for showdown votes on acceptance. There appeared to be little doubt, however, that both bodies would approve it.

Major provisions of the compromise OPA fill as it emerged from the senate-house committee include:

1. Revival of price control, in modified form, until June 30, 1947, with rent authority unchanged. The conferees erased a senate provsiion that would have withdrawn federal rent control from states that set up their own rent ceilings.

New Price Formula

2. A new pricing formula for manufacturers, producers, processors, service and transportation industries saying prices must be high enough to return on the average the 1940 price plus cost increases since then.

3. A requirement that price ceilings shall be lifted when supply of an item comes into balance with demand and normal competitive forces are restored. Determination when such items shall be de-controlled is placed with the three-man board. Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson is given the major voice in saying when agriculture products shall be repriced or decontrolled completely.

4. Pre-war profit margins for automobile and appliance dealers.

5. An end to OPA's maximum average price regulation by which it sought to force production of low cost clothing.

6. Less than half of the $2,051,000,000 in subsidy payments the administration asked to keep alive its program of holding down retail prices by means of supplemental payments from the federal treasury.

7. A requirement that in establishing maximum prices for wholesale or retail distributors of manufactured articles or agricultural products OPA shall allow "the current cost of acquisition of any commodity, plus such average percentage discount or markup as was in effect March 31, 1946." This eliminates a large part of OPA's cost absorption program whereby retailers were required to absorb a part of higher manufacturing cost.

8. A stipulation that while the act is retroactive to June 30, "no act or transaction occurring subsequent to June 30 and prior to the date of enactment of this act shall be deemed to be a violation" of the price control law.

Sun Stroke Proves Fatal—

Chicago, July 22—(AP)—Stanley C. Cyzio, 45-year-old attorney, was dead today—because he fell asleep on his sun porch July 12. He suffered a sun stroke which proved fatal yesterday.

Big Fish on Display—

Harold Tuttle of Grand Detour, who returned about two weeks ago from a fishing expedition at Trout lake near Cook, Minn., caught a 22-pound great northern on one of his trips. He had his prize mounted and today placed it on display at the B. & A. sports goods shop on East First street, from which he purchased the bait he was using when the big fish struck.

Fire in Parked Auto—

The fire department was called to the Rink parking lot on Highland avenue south of First street Saturday night at 11:35 to extinguish a fire which had been discovered in a park automobile. Crossed wiring about the motor evidently started the fire in the car which belonged to L. Wakenight, route 2, Oregon. The fire was extinguished with minor damage to the car.

Boy 11, Struck by Auto—

Wendell Hambley, 11, son of Mrs. Ethel Hambley, 932 Grant avenue, sustained minor cuts and bruises when he was struck by an automobile driven by H. H. Reynolds, 1411 Third street, at the Third street arch Sunday evening about 9:30. John Cahill removed the injured boy to the KSB hospital where his injuries were dressed, after which he was taken to his home by police who investigated the accident.

"Not Good Farm Practice"—

Charles Bott, Dixon township noxious weed commissioner, stated today that farmers and land owners in the township are cooperating in an effort to destroy noxious weeds. He was in receipt of a communication from Charles H. Keltner, superintendent of the state department of agriculture, today advising him to this effect: "When a farmer leaves bull thistles go to seed he certainly is not using a good farm practice."

Complaints About Hogs—

A pen containing three large hogs is proving quite offensive to residents living on Woodlawn avenue south of the NorthWestern tracks. Complaints have been filed with the police and county health departments but no action has been taken, it was stated today ,even though the offense is in violation of the city ordinance. The hogs, according to the police report are kept in a pen at 1014 Jackson avenue.

Tag Day for Paradettes—

It was announced today that Dixon Lodge Loyal Order of Moose will sponsor a tag day next Saturday for the benefit of the Paradettes, Dixon entertainment organization, which had been invited to give a repeat performance for the veterans at Mayo General hospital, Galesburg, next Sunday. The Paradettes will appear in the various wards at the hospital between 2:00 and 4:30 p. m. and will give a two-hour show in the hospital's auditorium starting at 7:00 p. m.

Philippine Guerrillas, Army Continue Battles

Manila, July 22—(AP)—An end to the bloody clashes between armed peasants known as Hukabalahaps and the Philippines military police was foreseen today by a high government official but the Manila press did not share his optimism.

While interior secretary Jose Zuleta was pronouncing prospects of a peaceful settlement "very bright," the press reported that guerrilas were massing in Nueva Ecija and Pampamga provinces north of Manila.

The Huks contend that landowners are trying to return them to their semi-slavery of prewar days and are aided by reactionary provincial governors. President Roxas has promised land reforms but insists the Huks must cease resistance or be crushed and has set July 28 as the deadline.

CALCUTTA PHONES STALLED

Calcutta, July 22—(AP)—Approximately 16,000 postal, telephone and telegraph workers, striking for higher wages, were reported today to have almost completely stalled communications and seriously affected the commercial life of India's second largest city. The strike also covers Bengal and Assam.

Mead Committee to

mittee looked into Wyman's association with Hans Wilhelm Rohl, a German who became a naturalized American citizen three months before the Japanese attack. Rohl was part owner of Hawaii Constructors, defense work contractors on the islands.

Wyman Guest of Rohl

The house committee reported that Wyman and Rohl were often together on the latter's yacht, the Ramona. It cited testimony about "wild drinking parties" at which "cheap-looking type of young girls paraded in and out all evening."

And it said that after Wyman's assignment to Canada as division engineer the Rohl-Connolly Co., and associated firms obtained a $1,000,000 road contract to the Canol project.

Last October, Secretary of War Patterson reported an investigation had developed no indications that the conduct of Wyman or Rohl "contributed in any way to the Pearl Harbor disaster."

While the Mead committee's inquiry into the Wyman-Rohl case promised to be the first new investigation of any phase of the Pearl Harbor incident, the possibility that congress might review the finds of the joint committee was not discounted.

However, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich), who joined with Brewster in a minority report naming President Roosevelt as among those they felt should bear part of the direct blame, said he foresaw no try at a new hearing.

Claims Information Denied

Rep. Keefe (R-Wis), who signed the majority report subscribed to by eight of the 10 members of the joint committee, said in an appendix:

"This investigation has not brought to light all of the facts about Pearl Harbor. We have been denied much valuable information."

Keefe complained specifically that former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson did not answer some written questions submitted to him and "he has also denied to the committee his diary entries for the days Dec. 2 to Dec. 6, 1941."

The committee majority, headed by Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) praised the "ability and foresight" of President Roosevelt and his top cabinet members, laying most of the blame for the Pearl Harbor surprise on military leaders in Washington and Honolulu.

But Brewster and Ferguson held in their separate report that:

Minority Blames FDR

"The President of the United States was responsible for the failure to enforce continuous, efficient, and appropriate cooperation among the secretary of war, the secretary of the navy, the chief of staff, and the chief of naval operations, in evaluating information and dispatching clear and positive orders to the Hawaiian commanders as events indicated the growing imminence of war."

They agreed that military leaders must share in the blame.

Most of those mentioned in the reports withheld comment immediately.

At Dallas, however, Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, Army commander at Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack, said he was satisfied "that the testimony presented at the hearings fully absolved me from any blame."

Stimson said at Huntington, N. Y., that he considered the majority findings "a very fair report."

Changes Recommended

Two Republicans joined the six Democrats on the senate-house committee in reporting to congress that the military commanders in Washington and Honolulu were chiefly at fault in failing to anticipate the surprise attack with which the Japanese began the war.

This majority recommended changes in military methods ranging from unity of command in the field to elimination of "brass" walls between commanders and their subordinates.

Senators Brewster (R-Me) and Ferguson (R-Mich) concluded in a minority report that the committee's six month investigation had shown "the failure to perform the responsibilities indispensably essential to the defense of Pearl Harbor" rests upon the late President Roosevelt and:

Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war; the late Frank Knox, former secretary of the navy; Gen. George C. Marshall, former Army Chief of Staff; and Admiral Harold R. Stark, former chief of naval operations and Maj. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, former head of the war plans division of the war department.

Barkley Leads Majority

The committee majority, headed by senate Democratic leader Barkley (Ky) said: ,

"The committee has found no evidence to support the charges made before and during the hearings, that the president, the secretary of state, the secretary of war or the secretary of the navy tricked, provoked, incited, cajoled or coerced Japan into attacking this nation in order that a declaration of war might be more easily obtained from congress.

"On the contrary, all evidence conclusively points to the fact that they discharged their responsibilities with distinction, ability and foresight in keeping with the highest traditions of our fundamental foreign policy."

Brewster and Ferguson along with the majority, said that a share of the blame for the surprise element in the fleet-shattering attack must go to the Hawaiian commanders, Maj. Walter C. Short and Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel. The majority attributed this to "errors of judgment and not derelictions of duty," the latter an offense that might be subject to court martial action.

Bolivian Uprising

ualties in the street fighting were revolutionists.

Few Escape

Some members of the army and a few of Villarroel's lieutenants managed to escape the angry civilian mobs and flee to the hills. It was not immediately determined whether they planned a countermove on the capital.

The new government is composed of university professors and students, labor union groups and several prominent figures including the dean of the LaPaz superior court.

First official act of the revolutionary regime, which calls itself the "institutional government" was to issue a communique calling for national unity and restoration of "popular liberties" which were suspended under Villarroel's "strong man" rule.

The comunique also said that all political prisoners would be freed and that all political exiles would be welcomed back in Bolivia.

Crowds surged into the presidential palace, slaying guards and soldiers who attempted to turn them back.

The president was captured within the palace and then—either dead or alive—was hurled from a balcony to a mob in the street below.

Early yesterday, a plane swept low over the city and strafed the revolutionists. Later, another plane flew overhead and the pilot tossed out his hat containing a message saying, "the army air corps is with the people."

Air Corps Helped Before

Some members of the air corps participated in an abortive coup June 13, in which at least five persons were killed. Many aviators fled from the country with their planes after that revolt was put down.

The current revolution began July 13, when a student was killed during a demonstartion in support of teachers' demands for higher pay. The government then prohibited all demonstrations, and a general strike was called in protest of this action.

Fifty persons were killed and 250 wounded last Thursday when police fired on a group of demonstrators.

Realizing that his regime was wobbling, Villarroel reorganized his cabinet Saturday, forming an all-military body. When this failed to halt the revolution, he resigned yesterday morning an prepared to flee the country in his private airplane.

However, student leaders, who had amassed a large number of arms during the night, threw up barricades around the presidential palace and moved in for the kill.

Most of the army units which Villarroel had hastily assembled in the capital during the last several days refused to defend him.

The municipal police and two army battalions, one of which was the presidential guard, remained loyal to the president.

Despite withering fire from the palace roof and windows, the revolutionist managed to enter a cathedral next to the presidential building. From the cathedral, they tossed sticks of dynamite at police and soldiers on the palace roof.

Then with the help of two tanks they had captured, the civilians broke through the barricades and an iron fence and surged into the palace itself.

Nestor Guillen, dean of superior court, assumed the role of acting president, but said in an interview that he would retain that post only until Tomas Monje, court president, was well enough to assume office.

Guillen said he and others in the revolutionary junta "form only a provisional government to call elections and then turn over power to a government chosen by the people."

Villarroel had served as president since Dec. 20, 1943. He came into power following a revolution in which an army coup overthrew the government of Gen. Enrique Penaranda.

and other employes

In addition, Brewster said, th committee as "quite a backlog of war contract cases on which i wants to hold public hearings during the interval between adjournment and the end of the legal life of the present congress next January.

Included in this back-log is the reopened May case and one involving a $2,500 check from a defense contractor to the secretary of Rep. Coffee (D-Wash).

House colleagues forecast privately over the week end that May would refuse—at least temporarily—to heed the committee's subpoena for his appearance tomorrow.

These fellow representatives said that barring a change of mind the Kentuckian probably would tell the senate group he is "too busy" with other legislative matters and hence would stand for the present on his constitutional imunity as a member of congress.

May Keeps Plans to Self

May himself was silent beyond an announcement that he had referred the technicalities of the subpoena to an attorney. He said he had been too busy to attend to this himself.

In Coffee's case, Brewster noted that the Washington representative had been quoted as saying that he would "welcome" an investigation. The Maine senator added that he assumed the same formula would be applied in this instance as to May—the committee first would allow Coffee a "reasonable" time to appear vol untarily. In the event he did not do so, it would send him a written invitation.

Coffee, describing the check as a campaign contribution, has said the entire incident had been investigated by the department of justice and that the department "found no basis for action."

The governor's special session call limited the assembly's work to rent and eviction regulatory legislation.

Governor Green was expected to leave for Springfield this afternoon.

In Springfield, the session call was filed formally today by the governor.

He issued a proclamation which declared that "since the termination of federal rent control thousands of persons face eviction from their homes and places of residence because of speculative, unwarranted and abnormal increases in rents demanded which tenants are unable to pay".

The proclamation said that "unless laws be enacted to regulate evictions from and rentals of residential properties and housing facilties, existing abnormal housing conditions will seriously threaten the public health, safety and general welfare of the people of this state".

He called the legislators "to enact a law or laws, and to amend existing laws, regulating the matters of evictions from, the recovery of, and rentals of, residential properties and premises, and housing and lodging facilities".

Some discussion, after which a motion was made by Supervisor Elmer J. Miller, seconded by Supervisor Hemenway that the Chairman appoint a committee of three and they to meet with Chairman W. C. Knack of the American Legion Arch Committee and find out if any kind of a plaque is being considered for the Arch by the American Legion Committee. The Clerk read a letter from the National Association of County Officials together with a resolution from the State Association of Supervisors and County Officials to the Board, said letter being as follows:

Hon. Bd. of County Commwissioners
Lee County Court House,
Dixon, Illinois.
Gentlemen:

Beneficial results from the activities of the National Association of County Officials are now clearly apparent. Through the efforts of this organization $450,000.00 of the $1,500,000,000 set up for post war road work by the Federal Government, has been designated for for county roads. This is the first time in the history of our country that our national Congress stipulated in a bill the consideration to be given counties. This is a distinct accomplishment of the National Association of County Officials and the organization is entitled to full credit.

In recognition of this effort, the County Commissioners and Supervisor of Illinois, in convention assembled at Springfield, May 2, approved a resolution which was formally adopted May 3 by the members of the Illinois Association of County Officials. A Copy of the resolution is enclosed.

The Action taken by the delegates attending these meetings is significant, because the affiliation of the counties of Illinois with the National Association will help to sustain an organizaton that is rapidly building prestige in Congress, that is acquainting county officials with proposed legislation which is vital to counties, that is suggesting legislation to Congress which will promote the welfare of counties, and that is publicizing articles on county problems which will stimulate thought and enlighten the mind on many phases of county administration.

Complying with the instructions in the resolution, there is submitted herewith an application for ten subscriptions to the COUNTY OFFICER Magazine and a bill, properly executed, which we will trust will receive favorable and prompt attention.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE F. SIMMONS
Executive Secretary.

The following recommendation of the Fees and Salary Committee was read to the Board:

Dixon, Illinois, June 11, 1946
THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF LEE:

The undersigned Fees and Salary Committee has considered the petition of Edwin W. Merrick, Probation Officer of the Circuit Court for an increase in compensation, the same having been filed at the May session of this Board and referred to this Committee. We have examined the records of his services as he has submitted the same to the time of the filing of his application and have discussed the subject with him and with Judge Dixon, and from them have received much information which has been helpful to us. At the suggestion of Judge Dixon, we communicated with Mr. Coker of the Peoria Audit Company, requesting him to investigate the matter of compensation paid in other counties for such services as are rendered by the Probation Officer of the Circuit Court of Lee County, and he has also examined the records of Mr. Merrick. We made the request of him because of our knowledge that his observation and experience with county affairs would enable him to give us valuable information and advice. Mr. Coker has informed the Committee that in his opinion the amounts heretofore paid to the said Probation Officer are grossly inadequate. There has been a great increase in criminal prosecution in Lee County during the last year and a half, with resulting increase in penalties and the number of parties admitted in probation. The offenses charged against defendants in the Circuit Court are usually major offenses upon which penitentiary sentences may be imposed. The purpose of the probation law is to enable the court to adopt and carry into effect a program which will result in reform and rehabilitation of accused persons. That has been done with considerable success in the Circuit Court of Lee County. We will not, in this report, go into the details as to the number of offenses which have come before the Court in recent years, except to state that the increase is very serious and requires full co-operation on the part of all public officials.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Mr. Merrick was appointed Probation Officer about July 1, 1945, at which time compensation was $12.50 per month. At the September meeting, he requested an increase. The matter at that time received consideration of the Fees and Salary Committee then in office, but neither the probation officer or the Circuit Judge had the opportunity to discuss the subject with the Committee. At that time the Committee recommended an increase to $20.00 per month, effective September 1, 1945, which recommendation was accepted by the Board. Upon the request of the Circuit Judge, Mr. Merrick continued to perform the duties of the office, even at an inadequate compensation, but since then, there has been another increase in the duties he is called upon to perform. We recognize that the compensation paid the Probation Officer since July 1945 has been inadequate and not just compensation for the services he has performed. We believe that the salary of the Probation Officer should be fixed at an amount that will be adequate compensation for the services he has performed and will perform in the future. We realize that present crime conditions indicate that there will be a continuation of the existing need for extensive services to be rendered by the Probation Officer of said Court. Considering the inadequate compensation that has been paid to Mr. Merrick since July 1945 and realizing the importance of the work he is to perform in the future and the large amount of time it will require, it is our recommendation that the salary of the Probation Officer of the Circuit Court of Lee County, Illinois, be fixed at the sum of $50.00 per month, effective for the month of June, 1946.

Respectfully submitted.

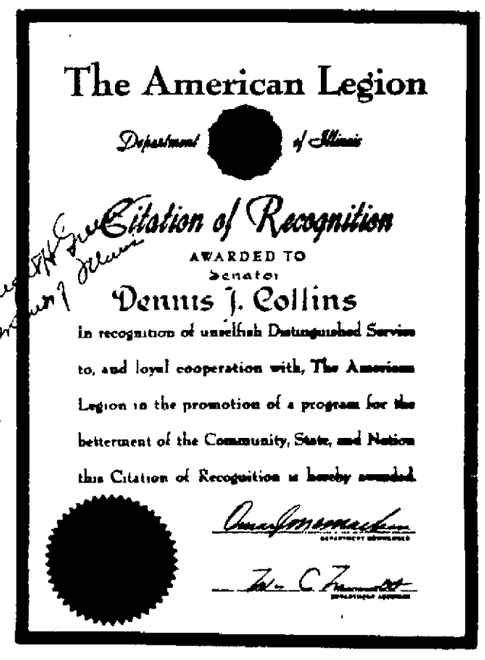
Collins Is Given Much Credit



The American Legion
Department of Illinois
Citation of Recognition
AWARDED TO Senator
Dennis J. Collins
In recognition of unselfish Distinguished Service to, and loyal cooperation with, The American Legion in the promotion of a program for the betterment of the Community, State, and Nation this Citation of Recognition is hereby awarded.

State Senator Dennis J. Collins of DeKalb, one of the four men who took active part in securing a bonus plan for the servicemen and women of the State of Illinois is given much credit for his outstanding efforts in bringing about the passage of the bonus measure.

Senator Collins was the leader in the fight for the bonus for almost two years when the bill was first introduced. The plan was first proposed and presented in November of 1944, and the measure which was just voted and passed almost unanimously by the state legislature is practically the same in substance as the one introduced by Senator Collins.

The Bonus Commissions were in session for almost one year holding during that time over 38 meetings. One hundred represen tatives of all leading organizations such as: Agriculture, labor, chamber of commerce, taxpayers federations, Illinois Retailers Association, taxpayers and all of the various and numerous veterans' organizations of the state and the bankers organizations.

Some Bonus Facts

Following are some of the principal facts concerning the bonus which was recently enacted: A bond issue of $85,000,000 to pay 916,000 Illinois World War II veterans.

A maximum payment of nearly $900, and a flat $900 to heirs of over 17,000 veterans who made the supreme sacrifice for their country. And a minimum bonus of $50.

Payment is based on $10 a month for domestic service within the continental limits of the United States, and $15 a month for overseas duty from Sept. 16, 1940 to Sept. 2, 1945.

To Tax Cigarettes

A new one-cent-a-package additional tax on cigarettes will raise $7,000,000 a year; and an increase in race track taxes from two to six percent and half of the so-called "splits" race track betting to produce $7,500,000.

The balance of the estimated $22,000,000 required to be paid out of current revenues. The act will be administered by service recognition board composed of the governor, state treasurer and the adjutant general.

The measure now will be presented to the people of the State of Illinois and next November at the elections they will have a chance to say 'yes or no" to the program.

Citation of Recognition

Senator Collins was recently the recipient of the Citation of Recognition Award presented by the American Legion The award has been signed by Governor Dwight H. Green and says of the DaKalb Senator, "In recognition of unselfish distinguished service to, and loyal cooperation with, the American Legion in the promotion of a program for the betterment of the community, state and nation, this citation is hereby awarded." The award is signed by Omar McMackin, American Legion Department Commander of the State of Illinois and the department adjutant.

For a long period of time Senator Collins was surveying the bonus plans of the other states who had proposed them, serving as chairman of the "Proposals and Plans of Federal and Other State Governments for the Payment of Compensations to World War II Veterans."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 21, was:

"LIFE"

The Golden Text was:

"I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord . . . God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light" (Ps. 118: 17, 27).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God . . . For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night . . . Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father. And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life" (Ps. 90: 1, 2, 4; I John 2: 24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality . . . Life is without beginning and without end. Eternity, not time, expresses the thought of Life, and time is no part of eternity. One ceases in proportion as the other is recognized. Time is finite; eternity is forever infinite. . . . One moment of divine consciousness, or the spiritual understanding of Life and Love, is a foretaste of eternity" (pp. 487, 468, 598).

Whales do, not spout water. Moist air blown from the whale's lungs condenses into drops of moisture in the colder atmosphere, giving the appearance of a fountain of water.

Germans Blaming U. S. for Scarcity of Food in Europe

People Point to Scraps Yanks Discard; Food is Biggest Worry

By RICHARD O'REGAN

Frankfurt, July 22—(AP)—Hitler's propaganda is still strong enough in postwar Germany to discredit the task the United States has shouldered in seeing that conquered Germans do not starve.

A U. S. military government report discloses that large numbers of Germans believe America is still telling a plain, out-and-out lie when she says that the world food situation is critical.

The impression is spreading, says the report from the state of Wuerttemberg - Baden, that America intends to let the Germans starve to death. Germans repeat among themselves: "Hitler was right when he said other countries will let us starve if we lost the war."

Causes Bitterness

This impression—which both the army and military government are trying to correct—is responsible for much of the bitterness toward America's occupation troops, the report says, adding that there is a widespread feeling that the United States easily could relieve the food shortages if she wanted to do so.

Germans, the report says, point to refuse cans full of waste from army kitchens and ask each other: "Why don't the Americans give the waste to our children?"

The anti-American attitude probably stems from the fact determined by an information control division survey that up to 72 per cent of the population of some German cities is concerned chiefly with getting more food.

A series of scientific polls, conducted among 13,000 Germans in all age and salary brackets, shows that throughout the American zone an average of 38 per cent of the population is worried more about food than anything else.

The zonewide average, the survey says, climbed from 23 per cent six months ago when German rations were higher. Worry over food, the poll show, has far outstripped other concerns—such as the shortages of housing, clothing and employment, anxiety over missing prisoners of war and the influx of refugees from eastern Europe.

An analysis of the survey says that the "steady, though small decline in concern about housing and furnishing problems "was unexpected and that despite the tens of thousands of newly arriving refugees "satisfactory arrangements apparently have been worked out in many cases."

Confirmed

Kansas City, Kan.—(AP)—"Where's the fire" Patrolman Walter Millstead asked Arthur Byress, Negro, as he pulled alongside the speeding automobile. "My house is burning down. Don't arrest me", pleaded the driver, who had been chased by Millstead for about a quarter of a mile.

The officer although somewhat skeptical, nevertheless led the way to Byress' home, where firemen had the blaze under control. Byress had been called from work by neighbors.

GET INTO YOUR OWN BUSINESS IN YOUR OWN NEIGHBORHOOD WITHOUT INVESTING A CENT

We supply samples, stationery and literature absolutely free. We teach you. We assign you an exclusive territory in which you can represent us as long as you stay in business.

Don't waste your time working for others. Work for yourself and build up a future among the very people you have known all your life.

Represent us! Sell every householder in your territory something she wants, something she needs all the time, something that will make her home more attractive and more liveable. Sell her curtains and drapes for her windows and doors, skirts and scarves for her furniture. Bring right to her door the new fabrics she reads about in her magazines and sees in the movies—made in smart styles by expert seamstresses in our modern, clean, daylight factory.

This is no "proposition" for peddlers or fly-by-night canvassers. Indeed, before you write to us, we would like to have you ask your local banker to look us up in Dun & Bradstreet. He will tell you that we do a legitimate prosperous business and that we enjoy an excellent reputation—that we are the kind of people you will enjoy associating with

And, please don't get the idea that this is a cinch "get-rich-quick" scheme, because it isn't. It calls for a man who is willing to put in a 40-hour week, who can present a decent proposition honestly and intelligently to the people he calls on, win their respect and keep it.

The work is congenial and not heavy—you carry a cleverly designed, fully illustrated sample book with swatches of all the materials you sell. You take your orders and we will either ship direct to your customers or to you as you prefer. This is a fine opportunity for a man who wants to get somewhere in the business world in his own home town. If that kind of a future looks good to you, get in touch with us right away.
